6. OBJECTIVES

The parties to this agreement have developed effective workplace consultative and participative structures to enhance a harmonious and productive relationship between employees and management and have reviewed and re-defined work arrangements to increase flexibility and efficiency.

It is the intention of the parties to build upon past achievements, whilst continuing to recognise the importance of the objectives set out in Schedule A, to further improve efficiency and to enhance job satisfaction. It is intended that these objectives will be primarily achieved through the revised classification structure introduced by the agreement, which it is agreed will be applied in the context of skills training and personal development programs, and the implementation of a more flexible system relating to rostered days off.

The parties to the agreement further confirm their ongoing commitment to ensure that the employer's operations are conducted so as to achieve the manufacture of internationally competitive, high quality and low cost products at the premises.

7. CLASSIFICATION STRUCTURE

The classification structure is designed to generate improved flexibility, productivity and efficiency by giving all employees the opportunity to train, acquire new skills and experience and progress through a career path.

Employees have agreed to undertake skills training and personal development programs to be organised by the employer and to accept greater responsibility for the accuracy, reliability and quality of their work.

A review of each employee's job classification will take place on a regular basis. The "QAP 05 Training" document, developed in accordance with I.S.O. procedures, sets out details of the review process. It also contains the employer's Employee Training Plan, developed to enhance the acquisition of new skills. The assessment of job classifications for both the Fragrance and Juice Divisions will be conducted consistent with the Food Divisions QAP 05.

Appointment to a grade four position, upon attainment of the required skills, is subject to the business needs of the employer. In accordance with this requirement, employees should, subject to their level of skill, training and competence, perform such work as they may be directed to perform by the employer.

34. JOB SECURITY

Quest International Australia is part of a global company and it is agreed and understood that during the life of this Agreement there will be a global review of production processes and sites. It is not the intention of the company to contract out any function carried out at the site. The company agrees to involve employees and their representatives in any proposed changes as outlined in Schedule A - Workplace Consultation. In the event that the company gives consideration to any major changes, the company commits to giving employees and the union notice in order to allow for appropriate consultation.

35. DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROCEDURE

The parties to this agreement shall at all times seek to eliminate disputes which may result in stoppages, bans or limitations.

The parties shall confer in good faith with a view to resolving matters by direct negotiation and consultation in accordance with the following procedure:

The employee may be assisted by a workplace union delegate in steps (a) to (c) above.

- (d) Should the grievance or difficulty not be resolved in step (c), the employee concerned shall refer the matter to an official of the union, who will represent the employee in discussions with senior company management.
- (e) In the event of no agreement being reached after the completion of step (d), either party may refer the dispute to the Industrial Relations Commission of NSW for conciliation and, if necessary, arbitration.
- (f) Reasonable time limits will be allowed for discussion at each step of the disputes resolution procedure.
- (g) Work will continue as normal whilst the matter is being dealt with in accordance with the disputes resolution procedure.
